The examination of the Grand Jurors who sat in the lame case was concluded late yesterday afternoon. In the second edition of The Star it was stated that C. H. Bailey and W. Robinson had denied having used or heard used words to the effect that law or no law. Law should be severely punished, or that the law ought to be strained in order to reach him. The remainder of the jurors testified to the same effect, and at the conclusion of the examination, Judge Cooper thanked the witnesses for their attendance. The case was continued until early in the new year.

PERELSTROUS' NEW COMPANY FILES ARTICLES

This morning articles of association were filed with the treasury by the International Immigration and Colonization Association, Ltd. The principal office of the society will be in Honolulu. The objects of the new company are numerous. The title is a comprehensive one, for the new company will attempt colonization, and under the articles of association it will be able to purchase land, and then furnish all sorts of transportation, for it has the power to build and run railways, etc. It will develop the land, and such facilities as telegraph and telephone lines and a Marconi system of wireless telegraphy will be availed of. It will have power to carry on a general agency or commission business; it also has arrogated to itself all the powers that are necessary or may be found necessary, for successfully carrying on the description of business for which the company was formed. The capital stock is $50,000, divided into fifty shares of the par value of $1,000 each, with the right of future extension up to $5,000,000. Provision is made for a reduction in the par value of the shares. The officers are: President, F. B. McStockier; vice president, A. W. Perelstrous; secretary, W. W. Harris; treasurer, A. W. Perelstrous; auditor, W. M. Graham. The shareholders are: F. B. McStockier ($18,000), A. W. Perelstrous ($10,000), E. O. White ($1,000), W. M. Graham ($1,000), and W. W. Harris ($1,000).

In discussing the matter of approving the plans of the Kona Railroad Company, Governor Frear this morning stated that on looking up the franchise he found that it would be necessary for him to appoint a commission to take up the matter of rates of freight and fares to be charged.

One of the commissioners would be the Superintendent of Public Works, and two others to be appointed. Some portions of the franchise were somewhat similar to the Inter-State Commerce Act in its provisions.

The governor thought that a similar act would be useful here. He had often thought of such a piece of legislation, but at the present time he had no idea of including it in his message to the legislature. Such a bill, he said, would need to be very carefully drawn.
